UPDATE: Shootings at Pulse Nightclub, Orlando, FL

As of today, the Office of Foreign Missions (OFM) is now aware of four countries whose nationals were among the confirmed victims of the shootings at the Pulse Nightclub in Orlando on June 12. OFM has notified all the affected countries' foreign missions in the U.S.

In addition, there are confirmed foreign nationals from two countries among the injured survivors. The consulates of these two countries are aware and are handling these.

OFM's Miami Regional Office continues to work with the Orlando Crisis Center, the Medical Examiner, the two primary hospitals treating the injured people, law enforcement, and other agencies in the aftermath of this tragedy. Any new information obtained by OFM involving foreign nationals will be conveyed directly to the impacted countries' embassy or consular post. The city of Orlando has created a web site with a list of confirmed casualties at www.cityoforlando.net/victims.

During this time of crisis, the Department of State will contact only foreign missions if it has confirmed information about a foreign national impacted by this event.

If a foreign mission has reason to believe one of its citizens may have been directly impacted by this event, the Department encourages them to call Orlando's Emergency Hotline phone number at (407) 246-4357.
